About Us

Since 1984, we've proudly served the Darlinghurst community, starting with our original clinic at 407 Bourke St (formerly known as 407 Doctors). From our humble beginnings above the Greek cake shop with supporting just two doctors, we've grown into a thriving practice that now supports over 20 independent practitioners and an international medical research team. In 2008, we relocated to 102 Burton St.

All of the doctors consulting at East Sydney Doctors share a commitment to providing high-quality, compassionate healthcare. We're also dedicated to educating medical students and registrars, as well as contributing to medical research. All of the doctors we support are currently accepting new patients.
